Carroll County Wabash & Erie Canal, Inc.
1030 N. Washington St.
Delphi, IN 46923

Founded in 1974, Carroll County Wabash & Erie Canal, Inc. is dedicated to the preservation of the Wabash & Erie Canal in Delphi, Indiana. Wabash & Erie Canal Park is the only remaining place in Indiana where the historic Canal is publicly accessible and navigable.

As a nonprofit organization to which tax-deductible gifts may be made, we are volunteer-driven and managed by a volunteer board of directors.

Our efforts are focused on three areas:

Preservation of the historic Canal and the buildings, materials, and furnishings of the Canal Era. We are proud to provide a world-class museum and an extensive archive of historic documents and artifacts.

Education of young and old alike about the importance of the Canal in Indiana history, how canals were built, how they operated, and what life was like in that era. We seek to inspire visitors' minds with stories of triumphs and challenges.

Recreation for the community and visitors to the Delphi area, providing picnic grounds, group tours, hiking trails, camping, play space, a conference center for community events, seasonal festivals, and opportunities to explore a Canal Era village and ride a replica canal boat.
